Subject: Comment on the Proposed Settlement

To Whom It May Concern:

As a professional who has been in the computer industry for nearly 10 years now, I am deeply concerned with the settlement Microsoft has proposed as "punishment" for it's illegal acts. If the court were to accept the settlement as proposed, they would be effectively telling the country, and the world, that what Microsoft had done to build, and maintain, it's illegal monopoly was acceptable, setting the stage for further raping of the technological industry. The behavior of Microsoft cannot go unpunished. In a country born and bred on variety and freedom, it would be a shame to see a creative and important industry ceded to an unjust tyranny that resides in Redmond.
